www.LDPatterson.com

Helping women connect with God, each other, and their communities. This is Lynne's vision and goal as she encourages her audiences to discover their calling through God's Word. Lynne's enthusiastic, humorous style will make you enjoy seeking God as you discover how His plan and purpose for your life is to bless others!

Lynne is a graduate of CLASS (Christian Leaders, Authors and Speaker Services, Inc.) where she trained under Florence Littauer, CLASS Founder, Speaker, and Best Selling Author. She has a passion for women's ministries and is a regular Speaker for Stonecroft Ministries. Lynne earned a BA in Christian Counseling and is a Certified Temperament Counselor. She is a gourmet cook and author of Feasts of Israel Cookbook – A Messianic Explanation and Culinary Celebration of God's Biblical Feasts.

Lynne has encouraged and inspired women with her message and music, her wit and warm personality in women's retreats and workshops, conferences, and ladies luncheons across the country. Coming from a musical background (her grandfather, Hilleary Arthur Brown headed the Philadelphia office of ASCAP – American Society for Composers, Authors and Publishers, her great-grand parents were traveling minstrels.) Lynne also encourages her audiences through the words of songs she writes. Her talk "Possess Your Promised Land" is based on The Joshua Generation a song she wrote recorded by Ricky Skaggs on his Grammy and Dove Award winning album Soldier of the Cross.

One of Lynne's favorite expressions is "Look what the Lord has done!" As a musician, having performed on college campuses and supper clubs across the country, Lynne discovered her calling and the purpose for her music. "I used to sit on a stool and sing The Way We Were," says Lynne. "Now, I use my gifts and talents for the Lord and give Him the glory!" Lynne has appeared on a variety of television programs across the country including: The Nashville Network, The Christian Broadcasting Network, and the Christian Television Network.

Growing up in St. Petersburg, Florida but moving to Nashville, Tennessee, Lynne and her husband, Bruce, a Nashville native, engineer, a minister with the Assemblies of God, and a classically trained guitarist, composer and arranger having memorized more than eleven books of the Bible, write many of their songs and use their musical gifts leading worship.

A little known fact about Lynne is that her song Sanibel Island was played as the telephone system's "on-hold music" at The Sanibel Island Florida Chamber of Commerce. She loves to play golf, cook for her husband Bruce and their friends, and travel.
